

December 2018

Dear Colleague

Following the NASUWT opinion survey on pay, it is clear that many of you are deeply angry about the imposition of the 2018/19 pay award. In fact, no one who responded to the survey was happy with the award, and 70% indicated they would be in favour of some form of industrial action.

As part of the Union's consideration of the next steps on pay, including a formal ballot for industrial action, a meeting for all members is being held on 13 December 2018. The details are below.

This is an important meeting and it is essential that every member makes every effort to attend so that we can discuss with you the pay campaign and industrial action, including what form this will take, so that the Union's National Action Committee can determine the action needed.

Best wishes

Chris Keates (Ms)
General Secretary

MEETING TO DISCUSS THE NEXT STEPS ON INDUSTRIAL ACTION

Date: 13 December 2018
Time: 7:30pm
Venue: St Saviour's Parish Hall

Please make every effort to attend.