

DISPUTE UPDATE

The NASUWT and the Jersey Government have engaged in constructive and purposeful discussions around matters of concern to both parties. Due to the range and complexity of the issues involved, significant further talks are being planned, which will be working towards an outcome that resolves the pay dispute, ensures effective use of resources, secures improved working conditions for teachers, and further enhances the quality of education received by children and young people in Jersey's education system. The next meeting is scheduled for 17 May 2019, and a further update will be issued after this.
